Description of the Event / Activity– The NSS Cell of Bengal College of Engineering & Technology (BCET), Durgapur organized a Tree Plantation Programme on 26th June 2023 under the theme “ One Student One Tree. ” The programme was conducted with the objective of promoting environmental awareness and encouraging students to actively participate in nature conservation activities. The programme was planned and coordinated by the NSS Cell as part of its commitment to environmental sustainability. Prior to the plantation drive, students were informed about the importance of trees in maintaining ecological balance, improving air quality, preventing soil erosion, and contributing to a healthier environment. NSS volunteers were guided regarding proper plantation techniques and the care required for the healthy growth of saplings. During the programme, students enthusiastically participated in planting saplings at designated locations within and around the college campus. The “One Student One Tree” initiative encouraged every participant to take personal responsibility for planting and nurturing a tree. Awareness was also created regarding environmental protection, climate change, and the importance of increasing green cover. The activity provided students with an opportunity to contribute directly to environmental conservation while developing teamwork, leadership, and social responsibility. Through active participation, students understood the significance of protecting natural resources and maintaining a sustainable environment for future generations. The programme concluded with a pledge by the participants to take care of the planted saplings and continue supporting environmental protection initiatives. The successful implementation of
