Objective: The basketball match organized between Warriors and Garuda (Boys Team) was planned with the following key objectives in mind: 1. To lay the groundwork for an active and sustained sporting culture within the institution by motivating students to willingly participate in organized basketball fixtures rather than treating physical activity as incidental to campus life. 2. To help players cultivate essential on-court competencies such as spatial awareness, ball-handling under pressure, verbal and non-verbal communication, and the ability to function cohesively as a single tactical unit rather than as individual performers. 3. To instil among the participants values of discipline, punctuality, and respect for the codified rules of the game, thereby reinforcing habits that extend well beyond the basketball court into academic and professional conduct. 4. To provide a genuine, competitive institutional platform on which students could test and showcase their basketball skills, building the confidence needed to represent the institution at higher levels of competition in future years. 5. To nurture a constructive and encouraging sporting atmosphere on campus that promotes healthy rivalry, mutual respect between competing teams, and greater interaction between students across departments and academic years.
Outcome: The basketball match between Warriors and Garuda yielded the following meaningful outcomes: • Active Participation: The fixture generated visible enthusiasm among students and translated into a marked increase in interest towards organized basketball as a regular extracurricular pursuit, with several students expressing intent to continue training beyond the event. • Better Coordination: The team-based format offered participants hands-on experience in structured communication, accurate passing under defensive pressure, intelligent positioning, and synchronized offensive and defensive transitions, sharpening their collective game sense. • Competitive Learning: Players were exposed to the pressures of genuine competition while being expected to adhere strictly to the rules of the game, helping them internalize the importance of composure, fair play, and respect for match officials and opponents alike.
