Description of the Event / Activity -

As part of the Athleka 2024-25 celebrations, the Storm Breaker Sports Committee organized a Musical Chair Competition for female faculties at the multipurpose hall of Bengal College of Engineering and Technology. The programme was planned as a recreational fun event to give faculty members an opportunity to participate in a light-hearted sporting activity and enjoy informal interaction with colleagues.

The competition commenced with the participants assembling around a circular arrangement of chairs. Music was played while the participants walked around the chairs in a continuous movement. At an unannounced point, the music was stopped and the participants immediately attempted to secure an available chair. The participant who could not obtain a seat was eliminated from the round. Following each elimination, one chair was removed and a new round was conducted with the remaining participants.

The progressively smaller number of chairs increased the excitement and required participants to maintain attention, anticipate the stopping of the music and respond quickly. The committee members coordinated the sequence of rounds and ensured that the activity remained orderly and fair. Other faculty members and attendees encouraged the participants, resulting in a cheerful environment filled with laughter, excitement and healthy competition.

The final rounds attracted particular attention as only a few participants remained. The event concluded with the identification of the winner, followed by appreciation of all participants for their enthusiastic involvement. The Musical Chair Competition added a refreshing recreational component to Athleka 2024-25 and provided female faculties with a memorable opportunity for participation, relaxation and social interaction.
